

Follow-up Email Template

Resource #2 | Students — Templates

WHEN TO SEND A FOLLOW-UP

Wait 7–10 working days after your original cold email before following up. Send only one follow-up. If there is still no response after that, move on — a second follow-up reads as desperation and will not help your application.

Variant A — First Follow-Up (No Response Yet)

SUGGESTED SUBJECT LINE

Following Up: Internship Application — [Your Full Name], [Your Law School]

EMAIL BODY

Dear [Mr./Ms. Last Name],

I hope this message finds you well. I am writing to follow up on my internship application sent on [Original Date of Email]. I understand you receive a high volume of correspondence, so I wanted to check if you had a chance to review my application.

I remain very interested in interning with [Firm/Chamber Name] in [Practice Area]. I am available from [Start Date] to [End Date] and am happy to provide any additional documents — including an NOC or a writing sample — if that would be helpful.

Thank you for your time. I look forward to hearing from you.

Warm regards,

[Your Full Name]

EMAIL BODY

Dear [Mr./Ms. Last Name],

Thank you for acknowledging my application on [Date of Their Reply]. I wanted to follow up briefly and confirm that I am still keen on the internship and remain available for the period I mentioned.

Please let me know if there is anything further you need from my end — I am happy to accommodate your timeline.

Thank you again for your consideration.

Warm regards,

TIPS FROM LOCUS BY LEXROOT

- Reply to your original email thread — do not start a new one. This gives the recipient immediate context without having to search their inbox.
- Keep Variant A under 100 words. The follow-up is a nudge, not a pitch. You already made the case in your first email.
- Do not apologise for following up. Phrases like "Sorry to bother you" undermine your confidence. A simple "I wanted to check in" is enough.
- If the firm has a general HR or admin contact listed separately, CC them on your follow-up — they often manage internship logistics.
- If there is still no response after your one follow-up, note it in your Internship Application Tracker (Resource #5) and move on to the next firm.
